

Lunenburg Seaport Privacy Policy

March 2017

The Lunenburg Seaport will endeavour to protect all information supplied by its members. The data is stored on a secure server. As you know, even the best servers are sometimes compromised.

The Lunenburg Seaports requires a minimum of information from our members. Only your first name, email address and your password are essential. Other information such as your last name, address and interests are optional.

When you sign up and provide you Visa account details, all of that data is handled by a third party site (PayPal) and none of that information is saved by Lunenburg Seaport.

Lunenburg Seaport will use your email address to periodically send information to members. However, we will not give your address to anyone else. If a third party wishes to distribute an email to our membership, and we deem it is of general interest, we may distribute it to you. But we will not give your address to others.